

Bernard C. Bailey, PhD, PE

Dr. Bailey serves as Chairman and CEO of Authentix Corporation, (www.authentix.com) a private equity backed company located in Dallas, Texas. His career spans over three decades of management experience in the high technology and security industries. He has served as CEO for two publicly traded companies, and held executive positions during a seventeen year career with IBM. Dr. Bailey has served as a director to eight publicly traded companies, and currently serves on the boards of directors of Telos Corporation and Analogic Corporation.

Dr. Bailey earned a PhD in Management (Designing Sustainable Systems) from the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University. His research focuses on decision making, strategy and corporate governance. A certified Professional Engineer in the Commonwealth of Virginia, Dr. Bailey also holds advanced graduate degrees in engineering from the University of California – Berkeley and the University of Southern California, and an MBA from George Washington University.

Dr. Bailey serves as a Trustee for the Committee for Economic Development and is a Trustee of the Naval Academy Athletic and Scholarship Foundation. Dr. Bailey has also served as an expert financial witness in front of the Delaware Court of Chancery, the major court responsible for oversight of publicly traded companies within the United States and has spoken and published frequently on corporate governance at both academic and professional conferences. He also serves as an Adjunct Professor in the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University, teaching classes on strategy, innovation, governance and general management to MBA and executive students. Dr. Bailey serves on the advisory board of Egis Partners, a private equity firm focused on investments in the security industry.